“A Year Of Change”

“It’s all about change” is not only the theme for this year’s yearbook, but also America’s new outlook on life. Our nation has changed drastically within the past year, and Holbrook Jr.-Sr. High School has experienced some changes of its own.

In the fall of 2002, Holbrook students were introduced to a new face: principal, Joel Antolini. As many questions ran through their heads, the students’ largest concern was whether or not the high school would undergo any major changes. After meeting with the principal, students realized that the changes to be made were completely necessary, and would benefit the school in many ways.

Mr. Antolini wasn’t the only newcomer at Holbrook High this year. Many new teachers became a part of the Holbrook staff, and have shown remarkable determination to teach their new students as much as they possibly can. These teachers have become a positive part of our school community.

In a larger sense, our country has expressed an incredible amount of nationalism due to the horrifying events which occurred in 2001. Since last year, our country has made an incredible change for the better. Fellow Americans have united and put all quarrels aside. For we are at war with terrorism, but will not give up hope.

Superintendent's

Message

Dear Graduates:

On behalf of the Holbrook School Committee, I want to congratulate you on your academic achievement in Holbrook. Throughout your years in our public schools, you have experienced many challenges and opportunities. Hopefully the efforts of your teachers and administrators have enabled you to develop strong academic standards, high moral and ethical values, and a clear vision for your life's direction and ambitions.

As you move forward toward your life's journey, it is my wish that the voyage be directed by an accurate chart and compass and that Holbrook always will be a Beacon of Light to help steer your course.

Congratulations and best wishes for a life of happiness and success. I remain...

Sincerely,
Dr. Maynard M. Suffredini, Jr.
Superintendent of Schools

Principal's

Message

For the past six years Holbrook Junior-Senior High School has provided you with opportunities and experiences in an effort to prepare you for success beyond high school. Look back with favor on these years and remember the lessons you learned - lessons from the classroom and the lessons of life - respect, determination, and friendship. You entered this building as children with high hopes and expectations. You leave us as young adults, well prepared to step into the next phase of your life.

Congratulations to each and every one of you. I encourage you to continue to do well, make us proud, and remain committed to learning. I wish you well, whatever your endeavor, knowing that your efforts will lead to your success.

Joel Antolini
Principal

Treasure the Memories

Mr. Baxter began his career in Holbrook in 1972 at the Junior High School which was located in what now the Sumner Field parking lot. He started his high school teaching career in 1978. In his years here, he has worked as an English teacher, history teacher, department head, program specialist, union president, vice principal and as coach of varsity cross country, varsity baseball, freshman boys' basketball, varsity girls' basketball, junior high school track, varsity track.

In 1970, Mr. Baxter left infantry service in Vietnam with the determination to teach the benefits of kindness, fairness and thoughtfulness by example of word and action--the antithesis of war. His life was changed in innumerable ways, not the least among them was a determination to make the world, or at least the environment he lived in, a more peaceful place. Holbrook was where he had his opportunity to do that in his professional life.

Mr. Baxter will miss the exuberance and beauty that a school filled with students brought to his life. He will also miss the challenge of educating students and working for change in their lives. He is retiring from Holbrook, but not planning on retirement. He looks forward to the future and the opportunities and challenges that await.

Class of 2003

A Graduate's Farewell

Senior class officers clockwise from bottom are Daniella Piccirilli, President; Stephanie Mahoney, Vice-President; Amanda Albrecht, Treasurer; Katie McCarron, Secretary.

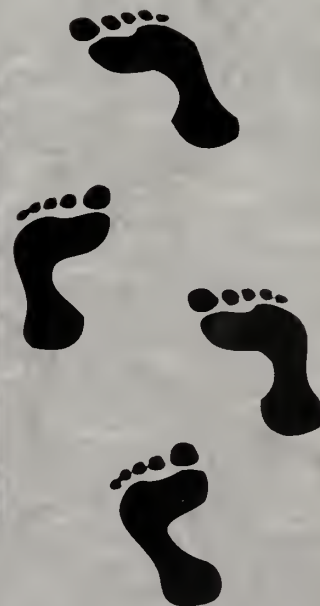

Twelve years of our lives have gone, and as seniors in high school we have begun to anticipate our futures. As nervous excitement kicks in, so does the realization of graduation. All the years of concession stands, fundraisers, and school dances now turn into faded memories. Our class trip was a lasting farewell, and Holbrook High School will now say goodbye to us as we move on in our lives. We hold the key to our future and the experiences we have been through will keep a place in our hearts. Class of 2003, never forget the memories and good luck in all that you do.

Thank you, Ms. Moriarty

The Class of 2003 would like to say a sincere thank you to Ms. Moriarty, our class advisor. There aren't enough words to explain how much we appreciate everything you have done for us in the past four years. You have not only been our teacher, but our friend. All the creative ideas, your time, and your commitment have not been overlooked. You have exceeded everything we expect of an advisor, and everything that we have achieved has been in thanks to you. Everything from selling concessions and doing fundraisers, to taking day trips in order to find a place for the prom or reception, show your true dedication.

Our memories together are cherished; the winning Homecoming banners, football and basketball concessions (the steak tips), late nights at the school, and the many nicknames (Martha, Bumquisha, Mor-board, etc.). When we look back at the time we spent here at Holbrook High, your image will fulfill our minds.

Thank you for your guidance, encouragement, and companionship. You have made our high school experience unforgettable, and you have left footprints on all of our hearts.

A Sincere Farewell

"A TEACHER AFFECTS AN ETERNITY; HE NEVER KNOWS WHEN HIS INFLUENCE STOPS."

At the end of this year, Holbrook High School will have said goodbye to one of the most respectable teachers anyone will ever meet, Mr. George Sullivan. For the past 34 years, Mr. Sullivan has enlightened every person he comes in contact with, and became a mentor, a teacher, and a friend to all of his students. Not only has he shared his knowledge in the classroom but this extraordinary man has brought history to life with the many trips around the world that he has organized for his students. His compassion has also come alive on the stage as director of all the drama productions. Throughout his life, Mr Sullivan has experienced an extreme amount of life's possibilities, and has shared each one with the people around him. His charismatic personality brightens up the atmosphere and brings a smile to your face. Though Holbrook High School must bid him farewell, his unforgettable legacy of what teaching is truly about will be left behind along with many years of fond memories. We, as students, would like to thank Mr. Sullivan for his companionship, love of life, and his storytelling which we will all keep in our hearts forever. It is with sincere gratitude that we say goodbye and good luck in all of his future plans. He is idolized in all of our eyes, and we will never forget him.

AND THE WINNER IS...

Clockwise from above: Kevin Callahan and Maria Sullivan are all smiles as they win the award for most friendly/care free. "Gold Diggers" Rob Connolly and Melissa Coombs are awarded most likely to marry a millionaire. Richard Amicangelo and Amanda Albrecht know the secret of their success as they're awarded most likely to succeed. Always prepared for any game, Dan Sterling and Kayla Jackson win most athletic. Ryan Burke and Kerrie Duc are strutting their new looks as they receive most changed.

Clockwise from left: Matt O'Riordan and Tracy Hamilton are prohibited from whining, which is what they do best as class complainers. Holding on tight, Garcell Beauduy and Shesler Pierre-Paul share the award for class flirts. Floating high above the class of 2003 are Joe Salvucci and Rachel Gianci as class angels. Micheal Eshner and Katie McCarron's distinctive chuckle can be heard throughout the halls as they win best laugh. Who knows what stunt they'll pull next as Brian Faherty and Phalen Williams win most unpredictable.

Clockwise from above: Showing off their pearly whites are Helio Duarte and Alesha Harris as they win best smile. Jarrod Dansky and Heather Kapson are simply irresistible as they pose for the best style award. Never missing a beat, David Caruso and Liz Ayers share most musical. You can tell spirit runs in this family as Joe Riendeau and Cindy Riendeau receive the award for most class spirited. Richard Oakley and Shauna Silvia analyze their win for class intellectuals.

Clockwise from left: Joey Hammond, Amanda Inglis, and Deirdra Feeley could possibly be the next Picasso, Da Vinci, and Monet as they are awarded most artistic. Steve Jordan and Christine Prisco are anxiously awaiting graduation with the worst case of senioritis in years. With class gossipers Matt O Riordan and Jahna Luscap, you'll never know what rumors they will come up with next. Jeremy Conley and Meridith Parrish are getting a ticket, as well as the award for worst drivers. Chris Parker and Tara Cianfarini win the award for most absent minded as they look dazed and confused trying to read, Smart Money.

Clockwise from above: Class clowns Brian Faherty and Dominique Jones take a break from their crazy ways to pose for a picture. Showing off their baby blues are Tim Blake and Ashley O'Conner with best eyes. Most gullible Chris Hebb and Heather Glass will believe anything you say. Sean Smyth and Rosie Gerstenecker always bring a grin to your face as their awarded most likely to make you smile. As usual, most talkative Kevin Callahan and Katie Jacob are found chatting on their phones during passing.

As the doors of our Junior year close, we look ahead to our senior year. In the past year, our banner won at the Homecoming Game. After spending much time creating the banner, we were very excited to win. Also, a yard sale was held in order to support the Junior Class. We wrote a recipe book, which was an excellent idea, and also had a craft fair, sold tupperware, and helped with basketball concessions. We made an exceptional amount of money which would benefit us greatly with the many events that we had in store.

The greatest part of our Junior Year was our prom, which was held at the Clarion Hotel at Nantasket. All of our hard work payed off and everyone had a wonderful time. In order for our prom to become such a memorable event, it included a beach setting, and a theme of "Paradise". Hopefully, after all of the hard work that we do, our senior year will be fantastic.

This has been a great year for the sophomore class and for this school. Some of our accomplishments include fundraising and planning for future events like our junior prom. Our new principal, Mr. Antolini has, done a great job in helping us adjust to some changes that took place this year. We are looking forward to an excellent junior year and we hope our efforts pay off for the success of our class. In closing, we would like to thank our Class Advisor, Mr. Power for all he has done to make this year a wonderful, succesful year.

The class of 2006 is off to a great start! Our first priority was fundraising and we started off with a very successful junior high dance. Our next project was organizing a Christmas gift sale to build parental and community support. Many members of the freshman class got involved in this sale and the money raised gave us a solid foundation to build on over the next three years. Under the direction of our class advisors, Ms. Maloney and Mrs. Fontecchio, we designed one of the best banners in this year's Homecoming Parade, and had a lot of fun doing it. We look forward to an increase in class spirit as we proceed through our years here in hopes that we will become the best class to ever graduate from Holbrook High!

Rush Hour

Clockwise From Above: Matt Stewart and Joey Hammond are enjoying their four minutes of freedom during passing. Danielle Macauley is so excited to be out of class that she forgot to watch her step. Amy Breen, Kristen McCaul, and Lianne O'Neil discuss their homework for the night. D.J. Meier can't help but smile because the bell for passing has rung. Porsche Suttles stands in her locker in order to reach her books. Corey Jameson is getting his clothes for gym class. Randy Regis takes his time getting to his last class of the day. Tony Prisco is all smiles because at last, it's the end of the day.

MMMM..GOOD

IT'S REIGNING, IT'S POURING

Homecoming weekend started off Friday night with the annual dance with djs T.J. Federico, Brian Macauley, and Paul Bachofner of Pandemonium Productions. As the students took over the dance floor, the nominees were being interviewed. As the evening was coming to a close, Brian Macauley announced the homecoming court leaving the nominees and all the students in suspense until game day the next morning.

As the parade made its way to the football field on that rainy Saturday morning, the executive board of each class presented their class banners. Following the banner presentation was the announcement of the homecoming court. Amidst the driving rain, harsh winds, and muddy football field, our Holbrook-Avon Bulldogs tried their hardest to defeat the West Bridgewater Wildcats. Although the outcome was a loss, our Bulldogs and all the fans still managed to have fun. At the conclusion of the game, this year's King and Queen, Joe Riendeau and Daniella Piccirilli were crowned.

Cheaper by the Dozen

On November 22nd and 23rd of 2002, Holbrook High School students put on a production of "Cheaper by the Dozen" under the direction of George Sullivan. The play was a comical, yet heartfelt story of the life of a large family, a strict father, and the problems that occur when you are one out of a family of twelve. The play was made up of a talented group of actors which included: Rachel Gates, Iman Rastegari, Ashley Grover, Dan Gates, Richie Mulry, Paul Clougher, John VanderMaelen, Catherine Jones, Amanda Ferreira, Emily Jones, Andrea Davis, Katie McCarron, Brian Kenerson, Kayla Jackson, and Joe Salvucci. The many rehearsals payed off, and "Cheaper by the Dozen" was a complete success!

Showing her dance skills, Lauren Austin moves to the groove.

FUN IN THE SUN

Annual Semi-formal

This year's semi-formal was postponed twice. The first time due to the Blizzard of 2003 and the second time due to roof problems at the hall. The theme for this year's semi was "The Beach Ball". After being rescheduled three times, the semi-formal finally took place on March 21, 2003. Instead of having the dance at The Dalton Club in Holbrook, it was moved to the Knights of Columbus in Abington.

This dance was very different from the other semi-formals from begining to end. Unfortunately, Student Council advisor Mrs. Fitzgerald was unable to attend. This left the committee in a dilemma, having to plan and run the dance by themselves. Regardless, the event ran smoothly and well. All students that attended had a night of dancing and fun in the sun.

On the dance floor, Courtney Turner and Brittney Erskine dance to the music. Katie Swift and Melissa Coombs are all smiles as they take time for a picture.

Stars Shine bright at Holbrook High Tonight

"Cabaret 2003" took place on Friday, February 28 in the high school auditorium. This year's smashing show was produced by our very own Rachel Gates and Ashley Grover. After weeks of practices and rehearsals the many talented singers, dancers and bands took the stage. The evening was a huge success thanks to the help of the music parents and Mr. Allen Thomas.

All those involved were extremely pleased that the evening was such a success and they can hardly wait until next year.

This year's band was busy participating in many events. Summer brought practices as we prepared for football games and our first big event, Band Day at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst. On November 10, 2002, we performed a benefit concert to raise money for the Sean McDonough Charitable Foundation. This concert, which was held at the United Methodist Church, raised $600 to be distributed to a variety of charities.

As the year progressed, it was time to get ready for our annual participation in the Quincy Christmas Parade. We took home first place for colorguards and majorettes and second place for the band. As usual, we had a great time.

As 2002 drew to a close, under the direction of Mr. Thomas and Mr. Herbert, the entire music department put on its spectacular Christmas Concert.

Other highlights of the year included marching in the St. Patrick's Day Parade in South Boston, the Pops Concert, the Memorial Day Parade and preparing for what will be some final performances at graduation.

Four Quarters of Fun

The Holbrook-Avon Bulldogs had a tough season this year as they started to rebuild their team. After putting a lot of time and effort into their practices, their hard work finally paid off as they defeated Old Colony, 20-0. The Bulldogs were led by captains Mike Eshner, Joe Riendeau, Dan Marsala, Lenny Lima, and Jason Kelley. Thanks to their great leadership and hard work, the team will be able to follow in the example that they set and come up with a winning season in the future.

Tournament Bound

LADY BULLDOGS

The Lady Bulldogs started off another season going strong. Tri-captain Stephanie Mahoney, Shauna Silvia and Jessica MacNeil, showed confidence in their team as well as demonstrated the true qualities of leadership.

With a team of mostly freshman, these girls had to put in an extra bit of effort. Once they stepped on the field, there was no stopping this team thanks to the qualities of their captains and the dedication from their coaches Sharon Farrell and Shannon Maloney.

Star goalie, Shauna Silvia, had another excellent season. She was a key player and will surely be missed next year. Stephanie Mahoney and Liz Ayers also contributed greatly to the success of the team and will leave footprints in the hearts of all their teammates.

The girls advanced to the second round of the MIAA tournament. This young team showed us what they were made of and we can hardly wait to see what the future holds for them!

Boys' Soccer

This year, the Bulldogs had a rebuilding season. Even though the records didn't show it, they came together as a team. They worked hard and wouldn't have made it as far as they did without every member of the team participating. Losing one member would mean losing the entire team and the union made among them.

Captains Ryan Burke and Ryan Hogan led the Bulldogs with pride and respect. The rest of the teammates looked up to and relied on them for advice. Whatever they did, the rest of the team followed.

Despite the teams' disappointing record, they are anticipating a better season next year. The Bulldogs have no doubt they will be more successful and make it to the tournament next year.

Best of luck to our graduating seniors who guided our younger players!

This season proved to be a rebuilding one for the Holbrook Cheerleaders. They were a very young team with the opportunity to start fresh. Their season started off great with a trip to summer camp at Curry College in Milton. During camp they learned the importance of teamwork and determination. This was an opportunity for them to learn new mounts, dances, and cheers while attending different classes for the four days they were there. The outcome of the camp was a great success, with the cheerleaders earning a Superior Award trophy. Individuals also had an opportunity to compete while at camp, Stephanie Albrecht won the junior high individual's competition and Sandi Bell won the high school individual's competition. All in all, the camp was a great success and the girls learned many new things from it.

Avon-Holbrook Ice Hockey

The Panthers played hard all season long, practicing at least three times a week, as early as 6:00 in the morning.

Head coach Hemenway and assistant coach Brian Macauley supported the team greatly. The Panthers ended the season with four wins, five losses, and one tie. The team placed fourth in the Mayflower League.

Girls' Basketball

What a fabulous season the Lady Bulldogs had this year! After having played together since the seventh grade, our six seniors led the team to a Mayflower League Championship. The team was led by three Mayflower League All-Stars, Jessy MacNeil, Dominique Jones, and Heather Glass along with the four other seniors who added their own leadership skills that helped to pave the road to an undefeated Division II Championship. The seniors' experience together helped the team work together as one and also guided them to the MIAA Tournament.

Heather Glass, a dedicated guard, ranks first for career 3-pointers made. Kayla Jackson, a tri-captain this season, has five years of varsity experience along with a positive and supportive attitude. Liz Ayers, an unstoppable center, leads the school in free throws attempted in a game. Forward, Alesha Harris, has played on varsity since the seventh grade and is proudly in third place with most points in a game. Cindy Riendeau has contributed a great deal in her four years of varsity basketball. Forward, Dominique "D" Jones, led the team this season with total points scored and she is 4th in the record book for career points at Holbrook.

With the loss of these six talented seniors, the Lady Bulldogs will have many holes to fill for next year's season. After a tough first-round loss in the tournament against Marian, the girls leave the court holding their heads high because of the wonderful seasons they have had at Holbrook High.

HOLBROOK BULLDOG TEAM CAPTAINS

WHAT WAS YOUR GREATEST ACHIEVE-
MENT THIS SEASON?

Garcell Beauduy

My greatest achievement during the basketball season was getting my 500th rebound.

"Don't play anybody's game but yours."

Dan Sterling

My greatest achievement was winning the South Shore Vocational Tournament by beating Avon. Winning an all star plaque was important too.

"Play every game like it's your last."

Jarrold Dansky

My greatest achievement was getting captain and winning the SSVT tournament.

"Don't listen to the coach, just play"

Garcell Beauduy nets 500th Rebound

This year's season was a great experience for the team. Although the team didn't make the state tournament, they accomplished many goals, including beating our rival Avon and winning the South Shore Vocational Tournament. The addition of some new players and hard practices paid off during the season. The team worked well together this year, shared some highs and lows, but stuck together for a strong end to the season.

One major highlight was Garcell Beauduy's 500th rebound. He reached that milestone while playing at home against Westport High School. Garcell was presented the game ball in front of a cheering crowd.

We hope that the skills the team acquired this year will continue with next year's team. The continued addition of new players and new ideas can only prepare the team for next year's season.

Although the Holbrook High School wrestling team lacked in numbers, the Bulldog grapplers made up for this disadvantage in heart. As they continue to rebuild, third year coach Chris Fontecchio is constructing the foundation for the wrestlers' to be competitive in the Mayflower League and Division III South by developing the wrestler's skills, speed, strength, and endurance. Juniors Mike Hathaway and Kyle Bowers led the team. Both wrestlers had outstanding seasons with records of 16-4 and 15-5 respectively, placed at the Scituate and Cohasset tournaments and became Mayflower League All-Stars. The future of the team looks bright with up and coming freshman Kenny

"The King" McNamara, juniors Akeem Lashley and John Vandermalean, eighth graders Lenny Dance and Catarina Fotopolous, seventh graders Tim Curtin and Chay Carroll-Brown. These wrestlers worked extremely hard and will have future success on the mat in the years to come.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN THE MAKING OF "THE BOOK OF THE YEAR" YEARBOOK

The Yearbook staff members began an exciting new year learning how to design appealing pages, take interesting pictures, and write informative stories. The staff also brainstormed ideas for new pages to include in the yearbook. Once all of the pages were decided upon, Ms. Moriarty, the yearbook advisor, assigned specific sections of the yearbook to each of the staff members to work on. From tallying up the senior superlatives, to typing up the business and parent ads, there was a variety of tasks that needed to be completed.

The hardworking and competent staff had to meet several deadlines, and were quite successful in doing so. Consecutive pages had to be turned into the publishing company, Jostens, to be processed. Jostens then sent back proofs of the pages, errors were fixed, and any other corrections were made. This helped ensure the perfection of the final product.

Overall, it was a great feeling for all of the staff members, to know that they played a part in the making of the yearbook. Everyone involved was proud of their accomplishments and knew that their hard work paid off in the end.

Making a Difference

Student Council, along with its new officers, Joseph Riendeau as President, Deirdra Feeley as Vice President, Nicole Mastrogiacomio as Secretary, and Lauren Harris as Treasurer, under the direction of Mrs. Fitzgerald, began the year decorating the school with their new theme, E⁵ (Excellence Equals Exceeding Expectations Everyday).

October was a busy month for Student Council with the first ever school-wide yard sale. The yard sale brought groups from all over the school such as the Class of 2004 to Harvard Model Congress together. To advertise, students holding signs cheered and danced outside on the school lawn to attract customers.

The Unique Retreat, a night when the Student Council sleeps over at the school, was a great learning experience for students. Members learned about leadership skills with activities such as trust walks, where a student is blindfolded then led on a walk by another student; teaching members about listening skills, an important quality of leadership.

Student Council hosted the annual Semi-Formal dance at the Knights of Columbus in March. The whole school enjoyed a night of dancing and good times. This year was a great success for Student Council and next year can only be even more wonderful.

Student Council Members

In Student Council it's fun working with people you normally wouldn't work with to improve the school and make new friends.
-Sean Smyth, Webmaster, Senior

Student Council is fun because you get to meet and work with people from all of the grades in school.
-Richie Mulrie, 7th Grade

I love Student Council because I get to work with a wonderful group of students to make a positive difference in our school.
-Deirdra Feeley, Vice President, Senior

NHS

Serving Our Community

The National Honor Society is comprised of students who have achieved outstanding academic grades, and/or have held leadership roles in their school and in the Holbrook community.

In order to raise money for the NHS's scholarship fund, each member was required to sell at least two entertainment books. These books contained coupons for various restaurants, cinemas, stores, etc.

On Halloween night, members of the NHS went door to door to collect canned goods for the Holbrook food pantry. This charitable event was very successful.

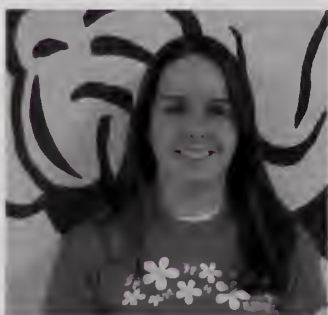

The NHS members' mandatory task each term was to complete a minimum of five hours of community service. The NHS members tutored students and got involved in other community service projects.

now that's Entertainment

This year, the Holbrook High School Band and Chorus were two of the most prominent groups in our school. Both made appearances at the Holiday Concert, the Pops Concert, the Senior Concert, the Sean McDonough Benefit Concert, and graduation. The band also added to the excitement of the football games and participated in UMASS Band Day and the Quincy Christmas Parade, where they proudly placed second. Mr. Michael Herbert, along with officers Elizabeth Ayers, David Caruso, Lauren Harris, and Brian Kennerson led the chorus with magnificent singing and leadership skills. The band was led by Mr. Allen Thomas and officers Cindy Riendeau, Amanda Ferrara, Jeremy Conley, and Elizabeth Ayers. The talent and ambition of those five was a great inspiration to the rest of the band. The two groups were a tremendous part of Holbrook High this year and we look forward to all of their musical contributions to the school in the future.

This year's colorguard started off small but powerful. They marched in four parades this school year and took home first place trophy for best band front in the Quincy Christmas Day Parade. This year's band performance theme was "movie mania". The girls performed to three different movie theme songs from Men in Black, Spiderman and Austin Powers. The Colorguard was headed by Andrea Smith and Nicole Mastrogiacomo with input from Tiara LaCosta and Linda Kizelewicz.

The Dance Team

DANCING QUEENS

The dance team was led by Junior Tri-Captains Rachel Gates, Tiara La Costa, and Linda Kizelewicz, and choreographer Amanda Albrecht. The team met at Strictly Fitness at least once a week since December practicing for the Cabaret and Pops Concert. Their hard work paid off and the team performed extremely well. The team was comprised of seniors Amanda Albrecht, Katherine McCarron, Stephanie Mahoney, Rachel Gianci, Jennifer Oakley and Ashley O'Connor, juniors Christel Gianci, Rachel Gates, Tiara LaCosta, and Linda Kizelewicz, Freshman Felicia Anderson, and seventh graders Stephanie Albrecht, Courtney Salerno, and Angela Casna.

Love and Best Wishes for a terrific future,

Mom & Dad

Congratulations to my #1 grandson. I beam with pride as I look back at all you've achieved in your 18 years. Your dedication and caring ways have made you into the fine young man you have become. I am so proud of you and love you dearly.

Nan

Dear Sean, It seems like only yesterday that we took you home from St. Margaret's and now look at all you have accomplished at school and in your personal life. I am so very proud of you. You have turned into the next phase of your life. I want you to know I'm here for you and I will be looking forward to watching all your future endeavors and accomplishments. I love you unconditionally.

Dad

Congratulations to my wonderful nephew Sean both on your graduation and on the success you have made of your life so far. To say I am proud of you would be an understatement. You exemplify all that is good and right with youth today.

I wish you continued success in all your endeavors, but most importantly, I wish you, not happiness in and of itself, but the ability to appreciate what you have, the courage to take risks, the focus to define and achieve your goals and the continued love and support of your very proud family.

Finally, remember, don't drink the water in strange places, do everything your mother says and remember your aunt when you are rich and famous.

I love you, Sean,
Auntie Kate

Sean,

As I look at you today, I can't help but feel like it was yesterday when you came into my world. I learned what true love was. Love I never knew a person could feel. I've stood back with pride as I've watched my little curly red head boy discover new adventures, face life's challenges and chase his dreams...Not to mention kick that soccer ball. Always so proud to say "That's my boy." Now before me is a mature, thoughtful, loving, respectful young man. You have grown and achieved so much yet you're only beginning your journey. Reach for the stars and be the shining light you are. Always remember I'm here for you with the same unconditional love and pride...I'm just a whisper away.

Love,
Mom

Hey Seanie, I always tell people when I grow up, I'm going to be just like Seanie. Even though they are big shoes to fill...especially those soccer cleats, I'd be proud to follow in your footsteps. Always remember I love you and I'm so proud to be you little brother. Love, Liam

Sean,

As you graduate, it only seems appropriate that I tell you how very proud you have made me. I have watched you grow from a devilish child to a mature, intelligent, caring young man! I especially treasure that quality time we have shared together as your uncle, and your friend.

While your high school years are so important in your life, you will find that they are merely a stepping stone in the proverbial "big picture." Sean, so far you have taken all the right, although sometimes difficult, steps and have conscientiously chosen the best path. From here, I am confident that the road you choose will help you build the strength and character that you will need to accomplish your goals and succeed in a future filled with the love of family and friends; success in academics and profession; and to realize the dreams you hold dearest in your heart.

Love,
Uncle Sean
Your Uncle and Friend

Sean,

We are so proud of you. Always follow your dream and stay true to yourself. We love you with all our hearts.

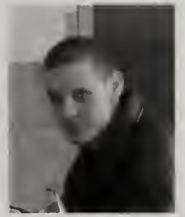

Auntie Lia, Uncle Mike, Brenna, Michael and Olivia

From the moment they said "It's a Girl", we knew God had answered our prayers. Our hearts filled with love and joy that no matter what, will never go away.

It's now time for you to graduate from high school. We know and pray to God that the road you choose will be full of success and happiness that you can enjoy. We know this because some of the paths you have been on have been full of potholes and ruts. You have picked yourself up every time and headed on your road. You must always remember to get up when you fall down. Go forward Chick and be who you are. You are a beautiful person, and we your family love everything about you.

Love,
Mom, Dad and Ross
